Monday Nights at Fresh Pond

Volunteer Walkabout

It's open season for volunteering at Fresh Pond! Join us for an evening walk around the pond to meet some of the folks that keep Fresh Pond alive. Rebecca, Elizabeth, Squizzle, Suzanna, and Betsy will show you recent project areas in the Reservation, discuss new projects, and tell you why volunteering at Fresh Pond is both fun and rewarding!

Tours of the Water Purification Facility

The Cambridge Water Department is offering tours of the City's Water Purification Facility. The program will include a virtual tour of the whole Cambridge watershed, using the wall-sized map on the second floor: an explanation of the process by which water that falls as rain in the suburbs 10 miles west of Cambridge is transported to Fresh Pond and made into pure drinking water for our city, and a walk through the purification areas and the lab. Come and bring your questions.

Fresh Pond Reservation Walkabouts

Chip Norton, Watershed Manager for the Cambridge Water Department, will give tours of Fresh Pond Reservation's conservation areas that have been or are scheduled to be restored. He will answer your questions and use maps and diagrams to help illustrate the goals for these major projects.

Walks in the Upper Cambridge Watershed

Join Chip Norton, Watershed Manager, on these walks through beautiful land owned by the City of Cambridge as part of our watershed. We will explore woods, meadows, ponds and streams. Car-pooling can be arranged. Details of individual trips will be given in the monthly program announcements a few weeks before the dates of the walks. Registration required: email fpr@cambridgema.gov or call 617-349-6489.

Learn about Native Plants with New England Wildflower Society

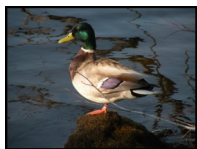

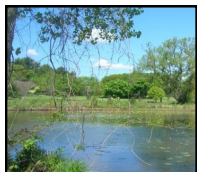

Join New England Wildflower Society botanists and Fresh Pond Stewards to learn about the plant communities found at Fresh Pond Reservation. These hands-on workshops include plant identification, training on invasive weed removal, and information on how you can help out at Fresh Pond.

Volunteer Stewardship Program

Mondays 5:30 – 7:30, April through November (also Thursdays 10 am – 12 pm)

In partnership with the Cambridge Water Department, volunteer stewards help maintain native plant communities while learning about the ecology of Fresh Pond Reservation. Upcoming projects include invasive plant monitoring and removal, planting and seed collecting, bird box monitoring, floating island installation, and monitoring specimen trees. Tools and training provided. For more information contact: Deb Albenberg 617.349.6489 dalbenberg@cambridgema.gov
